50 Men 50 Mats

The world's first yoga format!

What happens when 50 male yoga virgins get on the mat for the very first time? Caleb Jude Packham picks four characters with different circumstances. He creates yoga studios in unconventional locations... like car parks, factories, football fields, military bases, even on an oil rig!

Inspired by his mission as the Wellness Warrior to uplift men everywhere, Caleb Jude Packham and his sidekick hit the road in their VW Kombi van decked out with a yoga kit and juice bar on a mission to equip men with the tools they need to become the best version of themselves.

Each new episodes features a new town and four new yogi disciples.

Unsupervised

Unsupervised is going to show us you can rely on the next generation.

Winner of the Kyiv Media Week format contest, "Unsupervised" give five capable teenagers who are technologically, socially and environmentally more connected a chance to be an adult for a week. Experts, psychologists, and their parents will secretly be watching them all week.

At the end, the kids will be sent to a meeting where the families will be reunited and evaluated. In the emotional finale to this series, the families will discuss what they all learned about each other and how it has changed their outlook on living unsupervised.

Got What It Takes

Five seasons in the UK! Continually ranks in BBC iPlayer top 25 shows! Not your ordinary singing competition show. In this format kids get the chance to prove they can perform at the pop-star level, but the judges who get to say whether or not they make the cut are also... the moms. In this co-viewing, family-friendly hit, moms compete against moms, kids against kids, all to see which of the contestants has really "Got What It Takes".

Blackout

Listed in 2020 by Broadcast Magazine as "among the most important formats on the international market." "Blackout" centers on a social experiment in which groups of strangers have to survive when they are surprised by a two-week power cut. While one group lives in a technology-driven modern house that becomes useless without electricity, the other has to adapt to subsist on a rustic, self-sustaining farm. Blackout questions sustainability, the environment and humanity's response to a global crisis.

Second season coming soon to SVT Sweden. Blackout was the only non-English-language show in the reality and fact-ent category at the Rose d'Or Awards, up against C4's social experiment The Circle.

Broadcaster: SVT, Sweden | Episodes: 6

Freewheelin'

History from a fun perspective!

Roll up your sleeves, adjust your seats and join two comedians on a hilarious bike ride through history as they travel around a city and stop at historical hotspots. Freewheelin' is a funny and dynamic approach to history from Spain's TeleMadrid released across television, radio, digital magazine, a YouTube channel and a Spanish podcast.
